Veterinary Clinics

"Veterinary clinic" means a single building or premises with access to animals, wherein a basic clinical and surgical service or a specialised service is offered. Basic diagnostic procedures on animal samples may be allowed. In this type of veterinary practice, the clinic may have an autonomous organisation and identity, in which one or more veterinary surgeons exercise their profession and the practice, is carried out in the name of all the veterinarians considered as one unit. Otherwise, each veterinary surgeon may retain fiscal and professional individuality but share the premises, equipment or staff. The clinic will not provide for overnight stays of animals. [S.L.437.106].
